

My diploma work concerns about the description of the purges among Czech journalist covering the period from April 1968 till December 1970. I focused on the situation in Czech media during the period after Soviet occupation of Czechoslovakia in August 1968 and tried to describe a personal constitution of editors offices including the reflection of political changes on them. I was also interested in how the media worked under political pressure and how they tried to avoid them at this time.
