

Abstract (in English):

This bachelor thesis pursues problematics of intimate relationships in context of postmodern period, which brought new forms of coexistence and partnership roles in relationship. Emphasis lay on increase of individualization in society and its effect. Key basics from theory are primarily from thoughts of Zygmunt Bauman, Antony Giddens, which are going to be pursued in the first part of thesis. Theories relate to three main fields of researching dynamics roles partnership relationship and those are economical, intimate and working aspects.

Second part pursues assumption authentication from theory based on ISSP data during yers 1994-2012. Additional source of data for men and women roles are data files CVVM.

Klíčová slova (anglicky):

Role, partnership, intimacy, individualization, Bauman