

Abstract

The diploma thesis is dealing with theoretical concept of negativity and investigates its concrete form on the concept of „antibabism“. The thesis refers to concepts of negativity in general, negativity in media content and also to negativity in political media content. Individual research of the thesis focuses on quantitative content analysis in a few selected czech media and also tries to confirm or reject existence of „antibabism“ in media and politics.