

Collet Muza

Nationality	Zimbabwean
Residence	17120 Whitwell Road, Borrowdale, Harare, Zimbabwe
D.O.B	27.06.1980
Contact details	colletmuza@gmail.com, mobile +420 773 459 844

Academic Qualifications

2015–	PhD, Thesis. The demographic revolution in developing countries with special regards to Africa and Zimbabwe. Charles University.
2005–2007	MSc Population Studies. University of Zimbabwe.
2000–2003	BSc Honors Degree in Psychology. University of Zimbabwe.

Papers under review

Muza C: The fertility revolution in Zimbabwe with special regards to proximate determinants, AUC Geographica Journal, Charles University.

Muza C: Population development in Africa with special regards to ageing, African Population Studies Journal, South Africa.

S Simmons¹, C Muza²: Computational Prediction of Subjective Human Immunodeficiency Virus Status in Malawi Using a Random Forest Approach. AIDS Research and Treatment, Hindawi Journal. ¹University–Higher School of Economics, Russia. ² Department of Demography and Geodemography, Charles University, Czechia.

K Mangombe¹, L Zanamwe¹, C Muza² and W Chipiro³: Predictors of birth certificate possession among children aged 0-17 years in Zimbabwe: An analysis based on the 2012 Population Census. International conference: Demographic Challenges in Africa, The Contributions of Census and Civil Registration DEMOSTAF. INED, France. ¹Centre for Population Studies, University of Zimbabwe, ²Department of Demography and Geodemography, Charles University. ³Zimbabwe National Statistical Agency (ZIMSTAT).

Conference Presentations

C Muza: Population development in Africa with special regards to ageing. Charles University. Day for Young Historical Demographers & Conference of Young Demographers (6–8 February 2019). Department of Demography and Geodemography Charles University.

C Muza: Measurement of population ageing. IV Interuniversity Student Conference with International Participation “Demographic risks of the XXI century” Minsk Belarus 2017.

K Mangombe¹ (presenter), C Muza² and W Chipiro³: Predictors of birth certificate possession among children aged 0-17 years in Zimbabwe. An analysis based on the 2012 Population Census. International conference. Demographic Challenges in Africa. The Contributions of Census and Civil Registration, DEMOSTAF, 16-18 October 2019, INED, France. ¹Centre for Population

Studies, University of Zimbabwe, ²Department of Demography and Geodemography, Charles University. ³Zimbabwe National Statistical Agency (ZIMSTAT).

Professional Experience

(Aug 2014–October 2015) Senior Research Assistant, Biomedical Research and Training Institute (BRTI) in collaboration with UZ–UCSF, Family Health International 360 (FHI 360)

(Sept 2011–July 2014) Research Executive, Probe Market Research.

(Sept 2011–Jan 2009) Demographer, Zimbabwe National Statistics Agency (ZIMSTAT).