

Abstract

The bachelor thesis focuses on cyberbullying against teachers a possibilities of its prevention. The first part of the thesis is a literary review about definition of cyberbullying, specifics of cyberbullying against the teacher and a current occurrence of cyberbullying against a teacher in the Czech Republic and abroad. The next chapter describe possibilities of the prevention for schools and the teachers. The second part of the thesis is a qualitative research project. The goal of the project is to investigate preventive attitudes and approaches of teachers from czech schools in the problematics of cyberbullying. The results can be used to improvement of the preventive programs and to a bigger focus from schools and teachers.