

The thesis is called The Differences between Slovak and Czech Republic in Production of Magazines for Women. Its purpose is to find the differences between Czech and Slovak market with magazines for women and to reason and explain it by different sociodemographic characteristics of the population of particular countries.