5. Comments and questions to answer:

Theoretical part is satisfactory, but number of references is very low (16). Case study part contains many typing errors and text design mistakes. In initial examination muscle tone is evaluated by Modified Ashworth scale. SFTR method record should not contain °. Questions: What is spasticity? How do you evaluate muscle tone? Why have you recommended in short-term plan to strengthen hip flexors, even if they have muscle strength 5?

6. Recommendation for defence: NO YES

7. Designed classificatory degree: Satisfactory (according to student's presentation/defence)
