In the present work I study printing formats (PDF, PostScript) and abilities of modifying already finished documents before printing. In the other part of my work I focus on commonly used tools for pre-print preparations of documents. Last part of my work is design and implementation of tool for pre-print preparations of documents.