

The aim of the diploma is organization mapping of practical training experience and supervision on the social work colleges. In the opening part I talk about definition of social work and conditions of practise of this profession as education, personality conditions and sequential lifelong learning. After that I concretize a practical part of studying which includes special seminars and causuistic seminars, practical training experiences and supervisions.

The practical part of diploma contains a research, which is consisted to quantitative research (question – form) and qualitative research (group interview and individual interviews). The research was perfomed on stundents and teachers of choosen colleges whose aim was to get opinions on organising of the practical training of study. In fine of this diploma I analyse obtained data and than I make a methodical plan for organising of practical experiences and supervision to college.
