

Abstract

The bachelor thesis deals with the topic of homeless people with symptoms of mental illness. The thesis is divided into theoretical and empirical part. The theoretical part defines homelessness, mental illness of homeless people and social work with this target group. The empirical part focuses on qualitative research which examines the experience of social workers with mentally ill homeless people.

Keywords

Homeless People, Homelessness, Mental Illness, Social Work