

The thesis is aimed at explication of literary production of Czech prosewriter Vladimir Körner in Czech historical prose context.

Körner s production is distinguished by connection writer's screen and writer profession and still repeating returns to only subject, which is looking for own place in the middle of peremptory historical changes.