

Abstract

This bachelor thesis deals with the settlement of the Ostroměř region in Eastern Bohemia in the Late Bronze Age and the Final Bronze Age. It maps the findings of the Lusatian and Silesian periods of the Lusatian Urnfields culture in the defined area, analyses the development of its settlement in individual phases of the Lusatian and Silesian culture and tries to solve the question of the central role of the cemetery in Ostroměř. The example of a specific locality of the Late Bronze Age in the region is the second part of this work, in which is processed settlement of the Lusatian culture from Holovousy.

Key words

Eastern Bohemia, Ostroměř, Bronze Age, Lusatian Urnfields culture, settlement, burial ground