

Social integration and inclusion of people who are employed in social business

Abstract

The bachelor's thesis theme is a social integration of people who are employed in social business. The theoretical part describes social entrepreneurship, people with disabilities and their potentialities to find job on the open labour market. There is also explicated which social, cultural and psychological aspects are connected with employing and how the social work is connected with the sphere of social business. Following chapters define and explain the social exclusion and the process and forms of social integration. The practical part of bachelor's thesis is based on a qualitative research whose goal is to detect if people who are employed in social business are integrated in society.
