

This diploma thesis is focused on observing heterogeneous group of pre-school children in different situations, which were chosen before.

The aim of this observation is to note all forms of expressing quantity and figure during spontaneous activities which weren't interrupted by adults.

My thesis brings typology (characteristic) of expressing quantity in this age group.