

In this bachelor thesis, we introduce the Catalan, Schröder, Motzkin, Narayana and Delannoy numbers. All of them correspond to the number of certain lattice paths but many other combinatorial problems which lead to the same solution are known. In the thesis, we present several such problems and show the connection between them. Also, the generating functions of numbers are derived.