

The task of the work is to develop information system for primary and secondary schools. The application allows to insert and store data related with school and performs mass printing of school reports. The user interface is easy to use and includes graphic interface for setting the printer output. The application communicates with database server and supports parallel access.