

Abstract (in English):

The bachelor's thesis deals with the personality and activities of an educational counsellor at elementary school. It presents a system of counselling services at schools in the Czech Republic, acquaints with individual members of this system and their main job description. The text focuses on the role of an educational counsellor, on the personal and qualification prerequisites needed to perform this role. Furthermore, on individual activities that are an integral part of his/her work at elementary school and the related ethical principles. The practical part evaluates the results of the survey that was used to determine the most common activities and methods of work of educational counsellors today and their overall perception of this profession.