

The topic of his thesis Human papillomavirus (HPV) vaccination and I chosen based on their interest in this issue. Given annual increase in women in whom cancer of the cervix appears a number of women will die from the disease, it is important to present the importance of HPV vaccination as a significant prevention of cervical cancer.