

The subject of the degree work (dissertation) is the proposition of the nature trail in the national park. Wild Šárka including the didactic utilization in the course of biology lessons at the primary school. The theoretical part contains the description of the territory including the geographic definition and the profile of individual categories of plant, animal and geographical components. Simultaneously there are mentioned the historical relations in the region corresponding to the contemporary appearance of the landscape and that of biological diversities and the manners of the care resulting out of that.

The main target of the degree work (dissertation) was to create proposals of notice boards for the nature trail that is to be implemented in this national park and its nearby surroundings. Notice boards should serve to increase the knowledge of the public concerning this region and simultaneously to guide it to the more responsible conduct in this site. Owing to the accessibility by means of public municipal transport the site is suitable for the organization of school educational visits. For that reason there were elaborated working sheets that correspond to the subjects of notice boards of the nature trail, but at the same time it is possible to use them with minor changes for another site, the practical part of the degree work (dissertation) is completed by suggestions for games referring to the chosen subjects. The practical part was verified in the 2nd grade of the grammar school.
