

This publication is concentrated on the use of computers in kindergartens with a view to problems with computer skills by pre-school children both at kindergarten and at home. This diploma paper deals with watching individual children while working on the computer and analyzes its possible positive or negative influence on them.