

The present dissertation thesis focuses on the activities of the Wrocław captain's office in the period of 1336-1378, with a special emphasis on its written document production. The research is based primarily on an analysis of diplomatic documents currently deposited in the archives in Wrocław (Breslau).