

This thesis draws on and integrates knowledge from disciplines that span the psychology, theology and religious studies, as well as the non-standard disciplines such as transpersonal psychology and parapsychology.