

Thesis title: The lifestyle of physically handicapped people in Žďár nad Sázavou.

Thesis objectives:

The research relates to the issue of the quality of life of individuals who out of any kind of reason suffered an injury with persistent effects. Life values change with a limited movement the individuals remain attached to the wheelchair. The handicapped have modified movement activities, not only in a daily life, but also in other activities.

This thesis aims to illustrate some existing problems generated as a consequence of such a change of life and to find possibilities that help integration, completely in the district of Žďár nad Sázavou.

Thesis methodology:

Based on study, background research, analysis and literature elaboration, I stated the thesis assumption. Following the surveyed literature I used the thesis methodology.

1. The investigation of the assigned material.
2. Standard questionnaire
3. Customer papers
4. General observation of personalities
 - a) Health
 - b) mental
 - c) spiritual
5. Subjective observation

Thesis result:

During my research in Žďár n. Sázavou (25.000 inhabitants), I found many barriers that influence the life of a person on a wheelchair, especially in the area of education and culture that together with barriers in places of a social life considerably influence the integration of handicapped people into society.

Key words: handicapped, physical and mental barrier, humanization, integration, quality of life of handicapped