

The purpose of this work is to organize our knowledge of the stamped bricks found in ancient Gerulatě - Rosovcích Bratislava today. Kolkata are important epigraphical material and Gerulatu never been generally processed, although such findings to the catalog for Bergl exists. I will try to So the best to handle the issue so that it is as accurate and most.

In the first, theoretical part I will first give a brief history of how Gerulata themselves and progress of modern research, as well as general situation as regards the Slovak Republic stamps. This part is also characteristic different types of stamps Gerulatě found, their history, as well as basic information about the bricks themselves.

The second part is itself not yet published catalog of stamps, with their a brief description and location finding. At the end, the catalog is a summary of this information so that even someone who does not necessarily need to have information about Each stamp can build on this work.

(překlad vytvořen dodatečně)