

Author's first name and last name: Jiří Procházka

Title of master thesis: The current situation of Selective physical education

Department: Department of Military Physical Training

Supervisor: Mgr. Antonín Konrád

Presentation year: 2009

Abstract:

Target of the thesis: The target of my thesis is the analysis of the current situation of the Selective physical education in the Army of Czech republic. The objectives are find out most used spheres of a situation of material ensure for securing of those actions.

Methods: To obtain those dates were used substandard questionnaire with open and close question. The questionnaire was made to get the indigent dates about the situation of Selective physical education in the Army of Czech republic. To evaluate preventive rehabilitations with physical program was used analysis and synthesis to gain information from the evaluation of preventive rehabilitation.

Results: The results of detections from events of Selective physical education to determinate individually military bases and devices to fancy individual sports in the current time.

Key words: The system of military physical education, Selective physical education, availability, physical and psychical preparedness of the soldier.
