

Abstrakt

The aim of this thesis is to find out if there is cooperation between civil sector and public sector in chosen locality – Železný Brod. It is target on poverty and social exclusion. This cooperation will be assessed from the perspective of chosen respondents. The theoretical part describes some models of cooperation, situation in Czech Republic, importance of nonprofit organizations focused on social services and health care. Empirical part deals with methods and techniques of data collections, data analysis techniques. Next there is justification of location and target group. In the part Results, there are presented the results of analysis examined localities and respondents' statements. There is also answer the research questions.

Key words: nonprofit organizations, public section, cooperation, partnership, poverty, social exclusion