My diploma thesis is focused to a supported employment of people with highfunctioning autism (HFA). First part is focused on behavioral identifiers of people with H FA in adult age. Chapter deals with communication, social relationship and behavior in general. Following chapter mainly describes supported employment service. Last chapter is dedicated to specific tasks during introduction of people with HFA to an employment process. In the research part of the thesis there are presented results of questionnaires that were answered by variety of institutions providing supported employment service in the Czech Republic. The main aim of the research was to provide information about positioning of people with HFA at labour market. This might be helpful and provide valuable information for both supported employment agencies or the others that are helping to people with HFA.
