

The bachelor thesis focuses on the present image of folklore within the area of Prague and Central Bohemia Region. The thesis surveys the activities of the local folklore ensembles and introduces the cultural events and festivals with the folklore theme. Further it depicts the characteristics of the folk costume in this district, contains the division of the Czech Republic into the ethnographical regions, mentions the activities of the Folklore Association of the Czech Republic and focuses on the presentation of folklore in media.