

The topic of this thesis is transverse shear in breaststroke swimming.
The thesis deals with its occurrence among leisure swimmers and methods of its elimination.