TRESTNĚPRÁVNÍ REGULACE PROSTITUCE

CRIMINAL REGULATION OF PROSTITUTION

Summary

I chose this topic because I wanted to find how prostitution is governed by the law. That is the reason why subject of this thesis is the issue of prostitution and related criminal acts. The purpose of my thesis is to analyse prostitution topic, predominantly by the general komparative metod, draw attention to some shortcomings and outline amendment of legislation.

The thesis is consist of nine chapters. Chapter one defines concept of prostitution. Chapter two deals with the history of this topic. Here I tried to capture modification of regulation of prostitution due to the time aspect. Chapter three deals with types of prostitution. In chapter four I give attention to the different types of access to the prostitution. The fifth chapter is titled "risky aspects of prostitution". Here I primarily focuse on risk of HIV and AIDS. The sixth chapter deals with the legislation of prostitution. The main and the most important part of my thesis consists in chapter seven, which deals with criminal aspects of prostitution. Chapter eight concentrates on problems resulting from the upcoming changes. From 1 January 2010 takes effect the new Penal Code in the Czech Republic. Here I tried to analyze the various provisions which concern to offences related to the prostitution. Chapter nine deals with the prevention, which personally I consider very important, because it seeks to prevent undesirable phenomena of prostitution.

The main conclusions, which I obtained, are following. Prostitution itself is not in the Czech Republic a crime in the meaning of Penal Code, but is associated with it a number of other criminal acts. Here it is necessary to refer specifically to the offence pimping. The merits of this criminal act is in the action of procuring, commanding or urging someone to indulge in prostitution. The next important offence is also the trading with people, especially the trading with children. This is connected with organized crime, which exceeds the national dimension.
