

In my essay I would like to show, what are the general conditions for sexual education for children with intellectual disabilities on primary schools. How is the sexual education laid down in general educational programs and I want to show on examples how some schools have dealt with it in their scholastic educational programs. After general introduction, what should be the content of sexual education on primary schools, I will focus on some specifics of sexual education for children with intellectual disabilities. In more detail I will give an account of sexual education textbook for children with intellectual disabilities recommended by Ministry of Education. Then I want to summarize the principles of sexual education. From previous content I will deduce the importance of sexual education for particular aspects of current and future life of children with intellectual disabilities. At the conclusion of my essay, in practical section, interviews with people with intellectual disabilities are written down, which should complete the essay and show the level of their knowledge and their attitudes toward human sexuality. It should show the importance of sexual education for themselves as well.
