

This diploma work called "Czech - French relations in the field of philanthropy". Marie Riegrová Palacká and Marie Pape-Carpantier propose to acquaint with and draw attention by way of corresponding to two unique personalities Marie Riegrová Palacká and Marie Pape-Carpantier which perfectly complement each other in light of kindergartens despite big disparity in age and utterly different social and growing environment. The regular correspondence which started in the beginning of 1867 is ceasing during the year 1869 when Marie Riegrová-Palacká managed to establish and open the first Czech kindergarten in Prague with the help of madam Pape-Carpantier who accepted Czech applicants for future teachers in Paris.

After the introductory chapter and references the third chapter is dealing with exchange of letters of Marie Riegrová Palacká and Marie Pape-Carpantier. The correspondence was preserved by thoroughness of Riegrová-Palacká who for the first time wrote the concept rough in order to her husband who subsequently controlled the letters. The first letter is dating back to autumn of 1867 and the last preserved letter is coming from Madame Pape in 1877. Madame Pape dies 1878. The fourth chapter gives a short introduction into the life of madam Pape-Carpantier and hers prominent influence of her own work as a teacher in a kindergarten on her pedagogic publication leading to a position of director of "Normal course" in Paris.

This chapter gives us also a picture of concept of Marie Pape-Carpantier, illustrative teachings which adopted the both Czech applicants and which had been spread in Prague's kindergartens.

The fifth chapter describes the influent of Bernard Bolzano on Marie Rieger Palacká by František Schneider. Bolzano's teaching was so much reflected in her entire life that one chapter is devoted, where is also mentioned penetration of this teaching to František Ladislav Rieger's life.
