

In our democratic society there are many fundamental problems with young people's education. A family, various social organizations and a school are very important in it.

My thesis gives some information how the children of the school in Prague 13 spend their free time.

The search part of my thesis finds children's activities in their free time, gets some information about length or range of their free time and describes any other activities that can influence young people.