

Diploma thesis I developed in the study of nursing. I chose a particular klient, a lady X. Y., who was taken april 6, 2010 at the gynecologicae department. The reason for the adoption of the proposed operation – laparoscopic assisted vaginae hysterectomy. Labours has 60 pages and consists of theoretical and practical parts. In the theoretical part, I focused on the anatomy of the uterus, the types of laparoscopis operations, describing the operation of its indications and contraindications for this procedure. Finally, I focused on benign diseases of the uterus. The practical part describes the nursing process with Mrs. X. Y., which was elaborated by M. Gordon.