

The purpose of this bachelor thesis „Utilization of library and information services by disabled persons : focused on visually handicapped“ is to survey availability of public libraries for the people with all degrees of visual affection. The first part has theoretical character, analysis of services in several libraries from all over the Czech Republic is performed in the second part as well as evaluation of these services exploitation by visually disabled persons.