

In my bachelor thesis I am thinking of possibility to use projects for teaching and children's leisure activities. Further I am noticing projects from a pedagogical point of view. From a psychological point of view I observe the age group of children for which the project is designed. My work aims to create and verification a common project for both education and children's free time activities which is called Skanzen. Project will support in children their relation to country architecture, respect to life and work of our ancestors. Children will use their abilities to work with different technical and natural materials.
