

The topic of my bachelor essay is an inventory of motivational and activating elements/components in music activities for children at preschool age.

The theoretical part deals with motivation and activity in general. It defines basic concepts such as motivation, motive, motivation on music activities, activity, activation, and activating level relating to preschool education.

These elements are shown in practice in the second part where the effectiveness of the chosen motivational and activating elements is verified.