

The work is based on the presumption that the care of intact senior population will become part of special education. The theoretical part of the work is divided into two main themes: the first contains basic facts on gerontology and other important information on seniors that a special educationalist working in this field should know; the second theme presents possibilities for their work. The practical part focuses on analyzing the approach of academical fields towards the integration of senior care in special education.