

Bachelor thesis „Specification of television genre docusoap and media map creation of the programmes realized in the Great Britain” focuses on docusoap, which is a television genre that belongs to wide range of genres with umbrella title reality television. First chapter introduces the programmes, that had the most important influence on genre reality television. Second chapter focuses on the docusoap genre. The last part of the paper presents realized projects of docusoap genre that aired in Great Britain.