

The diploma thesis deals with psychological aspects of bariatric surgery. In the theoretical part are introduced current possibilities in diagnostics and therapy of obesity. This thesis is further about quality of life and its possible change after bariatric surgery. In the experimental part of the thesis is explored, if the quality of life has changed in 8 weeks after laparoscopic adjustable gastric band.