

The diploma thesis deals with the financial sources analysis in the Czech education system. Subsequently it compares the Czech system with the systems in two different European Union member states (Portugal and Sweden). It introduces individual institutions and subjects working within education, describes financial flows in the chosen sector. Namely the thesis shows quantity of financial flows to education and also the ways of their redistributing.