

ABSTRACT

This work describes industrial and knight family Bartoň from Dobenín situated on the castle Nové Hradý. I concentrated on the lifetime history of some important members of this family from the beginning to the end of the 20th century. A special focus has been given on the castle Nové Hradý, which is extraordinary architectural jewel, situated in the Czech Republic. The castle Nové Hradý is connected with some important names, for example Jan Ludvík and Jan Antonín Harbuval de Chamaré or architect Josef Jäger and others. There is another important family of Čerych. The current owners Mr. and Mrs. Kučera are trying to bring back its previous glance.

Were the members of the Bartoň family from Dobenín different from the ordinary people living in that time? Has the knighthood changed them in some way? You can find the answers in this work.
