

RESUMÉ

The dissertation aims to create an overview of the topic of communication education and a composition in many ways. It comes from a style of teaching of communication education and composition in the past to a characteristics of currant style of teaching of composition. There are some model assistant sheets for Czech language and composition lessosns as a certain manual included. To find out an up-to-date state of the communication education a questionnaire has been analysed. The final chapter is dedicated to changes and developmental tendencies of the textbooks for Czech language and composition on a basis of a comparative analyse.