

Abstract

Bachelor thesis "Activity of German journalist organization Reichsgewerkschaft der Deutschen Presse in der Tschechoslowakischen Republik in Czechoslovakia in the years 1919-1943" is focused on the activity of German largest journalist organization in the interwar Czechoslovakia. The theoretical part describes the historical context of Czech-German relations and circumstances of creation of the journalists' organizations in the Austro-Hungarian Empire. For completeness, the work deals with the press laws and the impact of new technologies on development of printing in the second half of 19th century. A special chapter is devoted to the German press in Bohemia and Moravia by the year 1945. The second part of this work is based on the study of archival papers. The attention is focused on introduction of activities of Reichsgewerkschaft der deutschen Presse, especially trade union activities. The conclusion of this work is to evaluate this journalist organization and its contribution to improving the social status of journalists in Czechoslovakia.