

Title in English:

Canoe Polo

The aim of the work:

Outline the development of a new canoe polo as a sport discipline of canoeing.

A method:

The nature of work in the processing of us formulated goals allows you to use empirical research methods. Thesis topic, and how to handle certain attractiveness of the properties described directs the formulation interpretation essayistic character.

Work methods used in writing the thesis:

First obtaining information, knowledge and experience

Second arrangement of the material obtained

3. The final synthesis of findings for this thesis needs

results:

Characteristics of canoe polo we include the results because he said sports complex processing industry not find in the home and materials literature. Therefore we consider the characteristics of canoe polo already own contribution Thesis.

Keywords:

canoe polo, development, equipment, aquatic environment rules