

The goal of the dissertation is to present possible therapeutic concepts that should not fail in care for people with physical and combined handicap, not only in the frame of special educational care.

The text involves the evaluation of the question-form research dedicated to parents of children with physical and combined handicap. It was aimed to take the level of awareness earlier mentioned therapeutic concepts.