

The current bachelor thesis focuses on the oral history of Mongghul Ha Clan (in Hawan Village, Tiantang Township, Tianzhu Tibetan Autonomous County, PR China). The clan's migration from the ancestral homeland of Xihajia in the contemporary Huzhu Tu Autonomous County, Qinghai Province to the current place of residence in Gansu Province in three waves from 1918 to 1942 is examined. Interviews with clan elders, transcribed in Mongghul and translated to Czech are an important part of the study. The clan's family chronicle and oral legends are also dealt with. The introduction features an overview of related, relevant previous work and the concluding chapter describes the impact migration has brought to the clan.
