

The main task of this diploma thesis is a tractate about models of bank's credit portfolio expected and unexpected loss, need of economic capital for buffering bank against becoming insolvent, relationship between economic capital and regulatory capital.