The work deals with design and implementation of the program, which is used to clarify the operation of algorithms for searching through text using a graphical view of their structures. The work also includes some analyzis of already existing, interesting visualization tools designed to address other areas.