

Abstract

The aim of this thesis is a formal and content analysis of the journal Čtenář in 1960 - 1989. The work used the method of content analysis, synthesis, induction and deduction.

The introductory chapter describes the general information relating to the national library journal, which is based on more than 60 years. The following chapter is dedicated to the history of Czech Librarianship during the analyzed period.

The third chapter presents an analysis of the formal structure of the journal Čtenář. It focuses not only on the graphic design of the journal, but especially on the composition of the editorial board and the authors contributing to the journal.

The core work is a content analysis of the journal Čtenář, which is located on the 4th and 5th chapter. The work presents an overview of topics dealt with in the journal over thirty years. Part of the work is an alphabetical name index of all the authors who contributed to the journal.

Result of this work is to evaluate one period of development the Czech librarianship, as it was reported in the national library journal.